Four Local Legislative Seats Set Up Hot Fights

The political pot is beginning to boil in Newton. Lively battles for the city's four seats in the House of Representatives are shaping up as a result of decisions by two Newton legislators to retire from public life at the end of the year.

Representative George E. Rawson, whose fourth Middlesex district takes in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7, is stepping out of politics at the end of his present term after a long and distinguished legislative career.

Representative Arthur G. Heaney, whose fifth Middlesex district includes Wards 4, 5, 6 and 8, also will voluntarily leave Beacon Hill at the close of the current legislative session.

Heaney today confirmed reports that he will not stand for another term in the legislature.

He explained that the demands upon a legislator's time have increased to such a point that he feels he could not fulfill them for another two years and at the same time meet his family obligations.

Representative Heaney declared that he has a public accounting practice to which he plans to devote himself and expand.

Well respected on Beacon Hill, Heaney is now serving his ninth year in the House of Representatives. He first won his seat in that body in a special election held in 1954 to fill the place of Howard Whitmore, Jr., who resigned from the Legislature after his election as Mayor.

Representative John W. Whitmore in the fourth district and Representative Lorenze F. Muther, Jr., in the fifth district both will seek another term at the State House.

RUSH TO FILL VACATED POSTS

Indications are that there will be a rush of candidates for the posts to be vacated by Rawson and Heaney.

New Toll Road Plan Favored

Mayor Has No Objection To Buildings Over Road

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared today that he has no objection to a bill now pending in the State Legislature which would permit the erection of buildings over the Massachusetts Toll Road in Newton.

Gibbs asserted that he and City Solicitor Matt B. Jones had studied the proposal advanced by Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan and had concluded that Newton's rights would be fully protected under it.

Grant Permits For Only Five New Homes Here

Real estate activity in the Boston suburban region for May was two per cent higher than a year ago, as indicated by the number of deeds recorded, according to Trends of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

However, the construction of new dwelling accommodation was 34 per cent less than May of last year.

The only building presently planned for construction over the Toll Road in Newton is a proposed new Star Market in Newtonville, the Mayor reported.

The present Star Market in Newtonville is to be demolished to make way for the Toll Road, but the new market building would be erected before the existing one is torn down, according to information given Mayor Gibbs.

This means that the new market probably will be built over the Toll Road before the highway itself is installed.

Mayor Gibbs pointed out that the turnpike will be depressed at this point and that — NEW PLAN —

Local Woman Victim of Hub Cafe Holdup

Five unmasked bandits who carried a big gun wrapped in paper forced a Newton waitress, a bartender and five customers, to lie on the floor during a holdup early Monday of a Back Bay bar near Fenway Park.

Mrs. Betty Rayberg, 38, of 11 Ohio Ave., Newton, told police she was not molested, but the thugs kicked the bartender, Edward Sumilla of Roxbury, who was robbed of $120. The gunmen also took $200 from the cash till.

She said she and Sumilla were outside removing cushions from the patio when they heard a commotion, and when they rushed inside, they were confronted by the bandits.

Mrs. Rayberg's daughter, Sally, 20, and a friend, Sue Ellen Babson of 1128 Chestnut St., Newton Upper Falls, returned from a restaurant where they bought some chop suey, and the bandits fled.

Matches, Cannon Fire Rod Into Boy's Right Hand

A pre-Fourth of July caper, pounding matches into the mouth of a toy cannon, exploded a metal rod into the right hand of Martin Roche, 13, of 119 Waltham st., West Newton.

The boy was using an eight inch rod, about an inch thick, to force the matches into the cannon. The boy was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital by his father, and doctors reported his condition as good.

$10,000 Grant For Books To Sacred Heart College

The Newton College of the Sacred Heart has been awarded a $10,000 grant for the purchase of books to improve the teacher preparation programs and to increase the effectiveness of the library services generally.

Rev. Mother Gabrielle Husson, president of the college, made the announcement that the grant had been received from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich.

This grant is part of a series in a nationwide three year program during which a total of $2,500,000 will be given by the Foundation to approximately 250 of the nation's liberal arts colleges. Institutions considered for the grants were those which have regional accreditation, well-organized teacher education programs, and real need for financial assistance to improve their libraries. The Foundation funds are to be used for the purchase of books only.

Summer Program Listed For City's Physically And Mentally Retarded

Plans for Newton's summer recreational program for physically and mentally retarded children were announced today by Acting Recreation Commissioner Harold T. Pillsbury.

It begins next Monday, July 9, and continues daily Monday through Friday, until August 17. It is made possible under General Laws whereby the state shares in the cost of the program.

The outdoor portion of the program will be conducted at the Spaulding School in Brookline street, Newton Centre. Also, a basement room for lunches, rest periods, rainy day indoor activities and toilet facilities have been made available by the Newton School Department.

Communications were mailed a month ago to some 50 parents of children who are classified under this category inviting them to register their youngsters for this program. Parents who may not be in the mailing list are invited by the Recreation Department to inquire about registration information.

Last year there were 23 registrations for each session during the six week program, and about the same number is expected this year.

Each child will be expected to bring his or her complete lunch each day. Refrigeration and storage for lunches will be provided but there will be no cooking or special preparation facilities or privileges.

Later there will be designated — PROGRAM —

Woman Driver Hurt in Waban Remains "Fair"

Doctors at Newton-Wellesley hospital report that Mrs. Marilyn Nable, 24, of Old Tavern road, Wayland, who was seriously injured when her car struck a tree in Waban on Saturday, remains in fair condition.

Mrs. Nable underwent emergency surgery Monday night and latest reports from the hospital were that she was continuing to hold her own.

She suffered fractures of both legs, back and internal injuries when she was wedged in the front seat of her car as it crashed into a tree on the lawn of the home of James A. Cotter of 350 Chestnut street, Waban.

Rep. Rawson filed the bill for Public Safety Commissioner Frank S. Giles. The bill penalizes the owner or occupant of premises or the telephone subscriber where bets are placed.

Battle Lines Clearly Drawn For Major Primary Clashes

The battle lines for the major clashes for the Democratic and Republican nominations in the September primary now are clearly drawn.

One or two late-comers might still move into the state-wide primary contests before the lists are finally closed, but the contenders on whom the greatest attention would be centered already have cast the die.

Far more apprehension over the scars and wounds, which may be left by the primary struggles is evident in Republican councils than in the upper Democratic echelons.

The Democrats are accustomed to fighting among themselves in the September primary and then closing ranks to do battle with the Republicans.

But the Bay State GOP has not had an important primary contest since 1950 when the Republican party was left practically in a shambles for the final election.

It was that 1950 experience which caused the GOP high command to revive the convention system of endorsing a state-wide ticket two years later.

The Republicans promise to provide almost as much excitement and fireworks as the Democrats in the coming primary.

The contest between Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy and Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate is certain to arouse the greatest interest.

However, the fight between five-term Congressman Laurence Curtis and young George C. Lodge for the right to meet the winner of the Kennedy McCormack race will attract a good share of the public spotlight.

Some 3,000 Attend Summer School Here

Between 2,500 and 3,000 children are attending various summer sessions in the Newton Public School System and some 200 teachers and administrative personnel are in teacher workshops, the School Committee was informed last week by Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools.

"The summer months increasingly are becoming part of the school year," Dr. Brown declared.

The Harvard-Newton program, which is essentially an enrichment program, holds elementary sessions at the Mason-Rice School in Newton Centre.

The junior high and high school session is for youngsters who want to make up credits or get an early start on next year's work. The regular summer school junior high sessions meet at Day Junior High and the Harvard-Newton at Weeks.

In addition there are two enrichment programs, the creative arts at Newton South High and the Tufts-Newton Public Affairs Seminar at Warren Junior High, under direction of Stanley Russell, administrative assistant to the superintendent.

Ex-Representative Irene K. Thresher of Waban is attempting a political comeback as a candidate for the seat Heaney is relinquishing. Mrs. Thresher gave up her place in the House two years ago to bid for promotion to the Senate.

Maynard Goldman also is campaigning for the GOP nomination for the House in the same district.

Alderman Theodore D. Mann and Charles H. Morang, both of Newton Centre, have been seriously weighing the possibility of running for the House in the fifth district but have not made known their decisions.

Sanford Kowal and Irving Fishman are seeking the Democratic nominations for the House in the fifth district and are hopeful of wresting away one or both of the seats which have been held for years by Republicans.

Attorney Fred Fisher of West Newton is campaigning for the Republican nomination for the House in the fourth district.

Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley and former Alderman Alfred R. Ruzzi are candidates for the Democratic nominations for the House in that district.

Bradley was nosed out by Rawson after an extremely close race in 1960.

NEWTON COD CHAPTER GIVES ENDORSEMENTS

The Newton chapter of COD, growing Democratic organization, this week endorsed Bradley for the House in the fourth district and Sanford Kowal and Irving Fishman for the House in the fifth district.

In addition to the fights for the seats in the House of Representatives, Newton residents are splitting up in the battles for the Democratic and Republican nominations for U.S. Senate and in the struggle for the GOP nomination for Attorney General.

Attorney Robert W. Hallgring of Newton Highlands was named this week to head a group of Newtonites who will back Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in his drive for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate.

Supporters of Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy are certain to counter with a vigorous campaign in behalf of the youngest brother of the President.

Congressman Laurence Curtis has extremely strong support in Newton in his campaign for the GOP nomination for the Senate and the right to oppose either Kennedy or McCormack in the November election.

Newton Republicans already are dividing into rival camps in the clash between former U.S. Attorney Elliot Richardson and Boston Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke for the GOP nomination for Attorney General.

Politically, it looms as the liveliest summer Newton has seen in a long time.

Widespread attention also will be centered on the battle between former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson and Boston Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke for the Republican nomination for Attorney General.

Except for the McCormack-Kennedy clash between members of the State's two most famous political families, the Democratic primary race will be of the usual pattern.

It's front-page news when Elliot Richardson, who missed a first-ballot victory by one vote at the Republican State Convention, decides on a return match with Edward Brooke in the primary.

But no one so much as flickers an eyelash when four contenders pile into the fight for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. Nor is it considered unusual that three of the four — former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, Attorney Matthew L. McGrath, Jr., and Mrs. Margaret McGovern — didn't even seek the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention.

Representative James R. Lawton of Brockton, choice of the Democratic convention for Attorney General, finds himself in a position where all the opponents he vanquished at Springfield have accepted the verdict of the conclave, but three new adversaries have stepped into their places.

Republican leaders would go into a state of shock if that happened in the GOP.

To many political observers the most surprising post-convention development of all was the decision by Lieutenant Governor Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., to remain out of the primary fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor and retire temporarily from public life at the end of this year.

McLaughlin topped Peabody on the first gubernatorial ballot at Springfield but fell short of the necessary majority because of the 100-odd votes received by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley.

Usually a front-runner on the first ballot picks up steam on the second ballot. That didn't happen in the case of either McLaughlin or Richardson. Both shaped up as potential winners on the first ballot but lost on the second.

McLaughlin's decision to retire to the sidelines stemmed from the hard, cold fact that he couldn't see where he could raise the money necessary to finance the kind of campaign he believed he would be obliged to wage against Peabody in the primary.

He was convinced in his own mind that he could defeat both Peabody in the primary and Governor Volpe in the final election — if he could get the funds he needed.

Part of McLaughlin's money-raising problem probably stems from the fact that many people who ordinarily contribute to Democratic campaigns suspect that this is a Republican year and don't have their customary enthusiasm about digging down into their pockets.

With McLaughlin out of the picture, many of the political pundits consider it a certainty that Peabody will wind up as the Democratic nominee for Governor even though Registrar of Motor Vehicles Riley will oppose him in the primary.

Peabody will be a heavy favorite to best Riley in September. He has proved himself a strong vote-getter in two primaries when he did not have the convention endorsement.

Political Highlights

He has factors working for him in this contest that he never had before.

Riley, on the other hand, made a poor showing at Springfield. He also was defeated by former Treasurer John F. Kennedy in the 1954 and 1956 primaries after being endorsed by the Democratic State Convention both years.

But Riley may make a much stronger run than most of the experts expect. He has a good record as Registrar of Motor Vehicles. His service in that office has made him far better known than he was in '54 or '56.

Riley is an underdog in his primary fight. A victory for him would be a real upset. But over the years politics has seen bigger upsets and instances where candidates given no chance of winning somehow managed to come out on the long end when the votes were counted.

An unusual sidelight to McLaughlin's withdrawal from the gubernatorial field is that after he was defeated by Peabody at the Democratic State Convention an attempt was made to persuade him to take the endorsement for Lieutenant and Governor.

McLaughlin said he would do so if all the Democratic candidates consented and withdrew. Attorney Francis V. Bellotti of Quincy, eventual winner of the endorsement, flatly refused to step aside, and McLaughlin declined to become involved in a floor fight for second place on the Democratic ticket.

After the convention McLaughlin also brushed aside suggestions that he seek the nomination for Attorney General which he probably could have won if he desired it.

Bellotti now is faced with a primary challenge by Attorney Robert M. Murphy of Westwood and Herb Connolly of Newton, well known automobile dealer.

Murphy bypassed the convention. Connolly made a try for the endorsement of the conclave but started too late to make a real fight of it.

Except for the Curtis-Lodge and Richardson-Brooke skirmishes, the candidates picked by the Republican State Convention apparently will have a free ride in the primary.

State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley and Secretary of State Kevin H. White have no announced primary opposition up to the present time.

One of the interesting fights for a slot on the lower end of the Democratic State ticket will be waged between Treasurer John T. Driscoll of Dorchester and former Treasurer John F. Kennedy of Canton who is undertaking a political comeback.

Kennedy served three terms as State Treasurer, the maximum which may be served consecutively under the State Constitution, and two years ago made an unsuccessful run for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Harvard Medical Faculty Promotes Two Newton MDs

The promotions of two Newton members of the Faculty of Medicine at Harvard to tenure posts as Associate Professors, were announced this week by Dr. George P. Berry, Dean of the Harvard Medical School.

Effective July 1, Dr. David H. Buhel of 59 Carlton road, Waban, becomes Associate Professor of Neurophysiology and Neuropharmacology, and Dr. Sidney H. Ingbar of 41 Montvale road, Newton Centre, becomes Associate Professor of Medicine.

Dr. Buhel, who has devoted his career to the study of basic neurological mechanisms in man, has effectively "mapped" the electrical activity of the cerebral cortex by analyzing the alterations in electrical activity during the contrasting periods of wakefulness and sleep. In collaboration with a colleague, Dr. Torten Wiesel, Assistant Professor of Neurophysiology and Neuropharmacology at Harvard, Dr. Buhel first described the manner by which the brain "sees."

Now a citizen of the United States, Dr. Buhel was born on February 27, 1926 in Windsor, Ontario, Canada. He received the M.D. degree in 1947 from McGill University in Montreal and served at the Johns Hopkins University Hospital and at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research prior to joining the Faculty of Medicine at Harvard in 1959.

Dr. Ingbar combines the activities of the physician, teacher and investigator at the Harvard Medical Unit of the Boston City Hospital. As an endocrinologist his special interest lies in the field of thyroid physiology and in this area he has achieved an international reputation. His investigations have been along three lines: the mechanism of thyroid hormone synthesis; the metabolism of thyroid hormones; the regulation of thyroxine (a thyroid hormone) metabolism. A native of Denver, Colorado (born February 12, 1925), Dr. Ingbar received the M.D. degree (magna cum laude) from Harvard in 1947.

With the exception of two years (1951-53) in the Army Medical Corps and a sabbatical year (1956-57) at the National Institute for Medical Research in London, Dr. Ingbar has been associated with the Harvard Medical School and its service at the Boston City Hospital since 1947. As a fourth-year student at the Medical School he received the Maimonides Award of the Greater Boston Medical Society.

Among his memberships he lists the national medical honorary society Alpha Omega Alpha, the Society of Sigma Xi, the Endocrine Society, American Federation for Clinical Research, and the American Society for Clinical Investigation. He is an Affiliate of the Royal Society of Medicine, England.

The curriculum combines thirty weeks of graduate study with a six week field work internship in business and government organizations in the East.

Mrs. Chertock's instruction for both adults and children will be resumed in the fall. Four of her most recent compositions are being played in the Boston and New York areas.

Children Hold Auction For Hospital Toys

Three children from Newton Lower Falls have done a good turn in a business-like way.

Martha McCourt of 82 Concord street, joined with Cheryl Arcese of 607 Grove street, and Nancy Grant of 74 Clear water street, to stage an auction. A few days ago they turned over the proceeds $3.57 -- to William S. Brines, director of Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Attending the auction were about 30 classmates of the third grade class of the Hamilton School in Newton Lower Falls. On the block were numerous children's toys -- some in need of repairs -- that neighbors had donated. The prize exhibit was a toaster that actually worked.

The auctioneers spent two weeks planning the charity event, and plastered the neighborhood with signs and notices. For a beneficiary, they selected the Children's Ward of their community hospital.

The auction was held in the backyard of Mrs. Robert E. McCourt. She helped arrange for cookies and refreshments, and also loaned a gavel to her daughter that Mrs. McCourt uses when presiding at meetings of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid Association.

According to Director Brines, the hard-earned money will help pay for new toys in the Children's Department.

customers would walk into the super-market at street level.

The new Star Market structure would be only a short distance from the present market.

Gibbs made it plain that he would welcome the tax revenue the city would receive from a new Star Market spanning the Toll Road.

He said he knows of no other plans at this time for erecting buildings over the turnpike in any part of Newton.

The Mayor pointed out that he and the Board of Aldermen would have virtual veto power over any plan for putting a building above the Toll Road.

They are: Peter Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes of 51 Winthrop St., West Newton; Stanley B. Hirson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Hirson of 65 Pickwick Rd., West Newton; and John Levenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses I. Levenson of 27 Bishopsgate Rd., Newton.

He has been active in the college fire department, in theatrical productions, and in the campus film society.

Hirson, who received the B.A. degree in drama, has also been active in theater and film activities at Antioch. He is married to the former Diana Reed of Albany, N. Y. Shift Home Care Program To Council

The Newton Community Council this week assumed charge of the Home Care and Geriatric Program, which will emphasize providing home helper service and referrals to such agencies as the Visiting Nurse Association or the Family Service Bureau.

The program was started by Dr. Harry V. Phillips, then director of the Newton Health Department which operated the program on a two-year grant from the Department of Public Health.

Under the transferred program, no home medical care services will be available at present. Since Dr. Phillips' resignation little service of this kind has been provided. It originally was a plan whereby chronic and elderly patients received medical care at home, rather than at some institution.

Co-ordinator of the program since its inception was Mrs. Lucille Palmer, who will become director of social services at the New England Deaconess Hospital. Prior to that she was for 12 years director of social service at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The grant from the Department of Public Health expired July 1. The Community Council has requested an extension of the grant for another year, and should the grant be approved, another co-ordinator would be appointed Sept. 1st.

Added Recreation Facilities Asked By Fred Fisher

Fred Fisher of West Newton, who is seeking the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives in the fourth Middlesex district, this week called for expanded state-sponsored recreational facilities in Newton, including a swimming pool on the north side of the city.

Fisher in a campaign talk further declared that "the most critical need in Massachusetts today is to establish a climate for increased employment in business."

"We must restore the confidence of the people in state government," said Fisher who is a partner in one of Boston's leading law firms.

Fisher urged a revision of the tax structure by lifting some of the burden now carried by real estate owners. Before launching his present campaign for the House, Attorney Fisher completed work on a movement among members of the Boston Bar Association for the adoption of a Client's Security Fund.

Such funds have been established by 14 state bar associations and many county and local associations for the benefit of clients of the few lawyers who are dishonest.

Contributions to the fund are made by the bar association from the dues of its members. Upon death or disbarment of a dishonest lawyer, a committee of the association makes payment to clients who have been defrauded.

Youth Symphony Board Elects Mrs. J. Currens

Mrs. James H. Currens of West Newton has been elected secretary of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra board of directors which co-sponsors the teen-aged group along with the Boston University Arts Center and the public, private and parochial school music departments of the area.

Dr. J. Wendell Yeo of Auburndale, vice-president for student affairs at the University, is a member of the executive committee. Also on the board are Dr. Robert Choate of Newtonville, Mrs. Elbert P. Little and Dr. Max Kaplan, both of West Newton and Mrs. Charles Olton and Mrs. Irving Usen, both of Newton.

'Y' Athletic Club Holds Meeting, Names Officers

Four executive officers and a five-man council to serve for one year were elected at the "Open House" meeting of the Newton YMCA Businessmen's Athletic Club held recently.

Serving on Executive Committee for the next year will be Dr. Leon Kruger, Chairman, of 50 Grafton street, Newton Centre; Warren J. Howe, Vice Chairman, 13 Mt. Ida terrace, Newton; Edward A. Fahey, Secretary, 4 Bridges avenue, Newtonville; and John Oatley, Treasurer, of 65 Gilbert street, Watertown.

Members of the Council include Irving Feldman, 1007 Beacon street, Newton Centre; James McAuliffe, 39 Ellis street, Newton Upper Falls;

MRS. HERBERT LEVINE

Fair Housing Group Elects Mrs. LeVine

Mrs. Herbert O. LeVine, 379 Central St., Auburndale, was elected chairman of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee at its recent annual meeting.

Also elected to office were Irving Fishman, vice chairman; Mrs. William Hollman, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Feingold, corresponding secretary; George Hauser, treasurer, and Mrs. C. Leon Hopper, publicity.

In evaluating the work of the committee during the five years of its existence, members observed a lessening of the amount of discrimination in Newton. "There has been a vast improvement in housing opportunities during the past year," Mrs. LeVine said. "The enforcement of recent civil rights legislation has had a definite effect. However, we continue to receive reports of families who have been consistently denied housing because of their color."

"It is especially important that residents of Newton recognize their obligation to families displaced by the toll road, regardless of their race or religion."

The following persons were elected to the steering committee of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee: Rev. Benjamin Andrews, Rev. John Balcom, Mrs. Ross Cannon, Rev. William Clark, Lawrence Cooke, Mrs. Helen Evans, Edward Hickey, Mrs. Matthew Jefferson, Hubert Jones, William Jones, Mrs. Warren Kastner, Mrs. Marcel S. Kistin, A. Donn Kesselheim, Rev. SIX-STRIPER CROSS WALK — "New Look" in pedestrian cross walk at Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre, as Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, left, and Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt cross six-lane path. The Mayor observed this type of cross walk in Germany and decided to try it in Newton.

German-Style Cross-Walks Painted At Four Locations In Newton As Safety Test

A new design for marking pedestrian cross-walks, which Mayor Gibbs observed during his recent visit to Germany, is being used as a safety experiment at four locations in the Newtons.

The four areas have been marked with a series of solid white lines for the full width of the cross-walk, creating a pedestrian zone which should present a striking appearance to automobile operators.

The unique pedestrian cross-walks have been painted at Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre Square; Washington and Centre streets, Newton Corner; Walnut and Washington streets, Newtonville; and Washington, Waltham and Watertown streets, West Newton.

Mayor Gibbs expressed the hope that this method of painting and delineating the cross-walks will provide greater safety for pedestrians. He said this objective should be accomplished in two ways:

1. The painted lines should present a more visible barrier to drivers and prevent encroachment onto the cross-walks.

2. They should tend to discourage jay-walking and to encourage pedestrians to cross the street within the marked area.

The Mayor asserted that he was impressed with this type of cross-walk when he saw it in Germany and decided to try it in Newton.

Gibbs said that it will be considerably more costly to paint this kind of cross-walk but that it would be a good investment if it reduces accidents.

"I am hopeful that this new crosswalk with its parallel painted lines will have a psychological effect upon both motorists and pedestrians," the Mayor declared.

"I hope that it will cause motorists to exercise greater care in approaching the cross-walks and that it will encourage them to cross within the marked area."

One petition calls for the construction of Wayne road as a public street from Vine street to and beyond Eastham street.

A second provides that Harwich road be laid out and built as a public street from Pond Brook road southwesterly and southeasterly.

A third seeks to have a section of Pond Brook road constructed as a public street. The strip involved extends from the accepted portion of Pond Brook road to Harwich road.

Also before the Aldermen will be a request that a sewer — HEAR PETITIONS — (Continued on Page 8)

Pratt Believes Toll Road Structures Would Be Safe

Newton's director of public works Willard S. Pratt believes construction needed to support apartments and offices above the Toll Road Extension would be sufficiently strong to comply with fire and building codes.

He said the structures would be strong enough to withstand fire and explosion and added he feels "today's structures are being built to withstand considerable shock."

The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority Chairman, this week told a legislative hearing in Boston that the legislature must act at once if the plan is to be work out.

'Jim' Murphy Cited in Newton's Safe-and-Sane Fourth Celebration

Newton enjoyed an accident-free Fourth of July celebration, marred only by the explosion of a bag of fireworks in an automobile which sent five persons to Newton-Wellesley Hospital for treatment of burns. The $10 worth of cherry bombs reportedly were purchased in Ohio.

One salute thrown by a passenger in the car struck the car window and bounced back into the car, igniting the bag of fire works. Most seriously burned, with second and third degree burns of the legs, was Mrs. Sandra Katler of Detroit. The mishap occurred near 86

Boylston street, Chestnut Hill. Otherwise, Newton's celebration of the holiday was without mishap.

There was no fireworks display in the City of Newton. The Newton Centre Improvement Association held its field day at the Newton Centre playground on Wednesday when some 960 boys and girls participated in the 27 events of all sorts.

A highlight was the presentation to James E. Murphy of 309 Tremont street, Newton, of a plaque designating him as — MURPHY CITED — (Continued on Page 2)

Necessary Work Will Not Be Completed Until 1963

Newton residents will not be drinking fluoridated water until early next year, according to present estimates by Water Commissioner Mark F. Croker.

By that time opponents of fluoridation will be starting a drive aimed at halting the dropping of fluorides into the city's water system.

Even though it seems virtually certain that the question of repealing Newton's present fluoridation law will appear on the ballot in the 1963 municipal election, Mayor or Donald L. Gibbs declared today that city officials are going forward with preparations for fluoridating the water in accordance with last year's mandate of the voters.

However, Commissioner Croker asserted that it probably will be next January before all the necessary work can be done and the first fluorides dropped into the water system.

October or November had been set as the target month for beginning the actual fluoridation of the city's water, but Croker said it will not be possible to complete all the necessary work until some time after the start of 1963.

He reported that an agreement for the engineering work involved is now being drafted and will be executed with the firm of Coffin and Richardson, Inc.

Commissioner Croker said that it will take 65 days to perform the engineering work after the contract is awarded.

As part of the engineering work the buildings to be erected will be designed, and specifications will be included for the fluoridation machinery.

Upon the completion of the engineering plans, contracts will be awarded for the construction of buildings at the locations where the water system is to be fluoridated and for the purchase and installation of machinery at those sites.

How long Newton residents will be drinking fluoridated water after the city makes all the arrangements to supply it, is uncertain.

Auburndale Circle Oilers In 2 Big Wins

The Auburndale Circle Oil Club registered two big wins in Suburban Two League competition this weekend, a 3 to 2 squeaker over the Malden City Club at Auburndale Playground and a 6 to 3 victory over the Hosmer Chiefs at Playstead Park, Medford.

The 3-2 victory over Malden brought Auburndale some measure of revenge for the 8-6 defeat they tagged on the Oilers in an extra-inning game played a fortnight ago.

Auburndale took the lead at 2-0, but Malden knotted it at 2-2 in the eighth on two singles and a wild pitch. In their half of the ninth, the Oilers loaded the bases on two single and a bunt that went for an infield hit.

Chubby Ryan tried the squeeze, but the attempt went for a strike, and then he drew a walk to force Gerry Marchand in with the winning run.

In the Medford game, Auburndale broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning by bunting six hits for five runs to take a comfortable lead. Newton counted 10 base hits in the victory at Medford.

GEORGE W. STIGLICH

He attended Newton public schools, graduated from Newton High and has been associated with the bank since 1949 in various departments. At present he is manager of the Newtonville office at 287 Walnut street. His home is at 115 Hunnewell avenue, Newton.

Mr. Stiglich attended various courses of the American Institute of Banking and also Northeastern University. He served two years with the U.S. Army and holds the rank of Sergeant First Class with a reserve component.

Theatre Ready For New Sound System Movies

The management of the Needham Paramount Theatre announced this week that patrons who have accepted today's movies as "practically perfect" are due for a pleasant surprise shortly.

Mr. Warren of the Needham Paramount predicts that patrons will become "sound conscious" once they have heard the color sound made possible, and now a part of the program starting July 15 when Rogers and Hammerstein's "The King and I" starring Yul Brenner and Deborah Kerr, will be shown for three days, including a matinee on Tuesday, July 17.

The installation of Stereophonic Sound by Altec-Lansing at the theatre, will permit audiences to enjoy a thrilling new sensation. For the first time, they will hear voices and music exactly as they were recorded on the sound stages of Hollywood.

With the new sensational sound system, audiences will no longer lose the higher and lower frequencies of the human voice, musical instruments, and intricate sound effects, which were not previously heard due to the inadequacy of former sound reproducing equipment.

Only after hearing a picture reproduced by the Voice of the Theatre Stereophonic Sound will local movie fans realize how much advancement has been made in this field.

since supports for the proposed buildings over the road must be constructed before the road is built.

Meanwhile, Percy Bugbee, general manager of the National Fire Protection Association, said in a statement that this plan would create fire hazards "so serious they cast doubts on the advisability of permitting this construction unless specific restrictions are applied."

Bugbee urged that the fire and explosion dangers be thoroughly studied before the legislature approves the plan.

The Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce supports the Turnpike Authority bill but suggested amendments to require compliance with fire and building codes.

If the legislature grants the Turnpike Authority's request for the enabling legislation, it would enable the Star Market in Newtonville to relocate on approximately its present site.

Chairman Callahan has envisioned a high rise apartment at Newton Corner. However the construction of such a building on pillars or slabs straddling the Toll Road would require approval by the Newton Board of Aldermen.

against fluoridation, the city would merely stop dropping fluorides into the water.

One thing Mayor Gibbs and Commissioner Croker agree on is that they could stop the fluoridation of water a lot more quickly than they could start it.

It has been eight months since a majority of those casting ballots in the 1961 municipal election voted for fluoridation, and it will be another six months before they get it.

A variety of circumstances, including the engineering problems involved, have retarded the relatively slow progress toward the fluoridation of the city's water supply.

Good Public Servants

Newton will lose two good legislators when Representatives George E. Rawson and Arthur G. Heaney retire at the end of this year.

Rawson has had a long and distinguished career in the House of Representatives. One of the State's foremost authorities on election laws, he drafted many of the statutes which now govern our elections.

He has been a hard working, dedicated public servant who fought long and hard on Beacon Hill to protect the interests of the people of Newton.

It is, perhaps, a sad commentary on our governmental system that a man of the capacity of Representative Heaney finds that his family responsibilities are such that he can no longer afford the financial sacrifice of continuing to serve in our State's great law-making body.

Representative Heaney may not have put it exactly that way. He has made no mention of any sacrifice on his part. But he and other good men on Beacon Hill have found that they no longer can give the time demanded by their legislative duties for the compensation they receive.

As Representatives Rawson and Heaney prepare to retire from public life, they can point to honorable careers in the Legislature. They did not often break into the headlines, but they earned the respect and gratitude of the people they represented and served.

Political Highlights

An attempt will be made by Brooke and Lodge backers to overturn the recommendation of the executive board and have the State Committee extend financial help to those two candidates.

The move probably will be unsuccessful for two compelling reasons to which the State Committee members will be obliged to give serious consideration.

One is that most Republican day night's session, but the can contributors want their money used in the election campaign against the Democrats next fall, not on intra-party fights among GOP candidates in the late summer. This is likely to cause many well-to-do Republicans to withhold their donations until after the primary.

A second is that the Republican State Committee is not especially well-heeled at the moment. The recent GOP dinner at the Boston Garden was a financial flop which caused rumbles of criticism within the party.

So the Republican hierarchy is virtually certain to counsel the State Committee members that they had better conserve what money they have for the fall election and not spend it fighting each other.

That will not satisfy the all-out Brooke and Lodge backers, but they presumably will be voted down.

Whether the State Committee will vote to endorse Lodge and Brooke even if it doesn't supply them with any money may be the subject of still another heated dispute.

That presently is not on the agenda of matters scheduled to be acted upon at next Mon-

Rev. MacDonald Will Preach At Summer Service

The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald D.D., for thirty-seven years minister of the Union Church in Waban, will be the preacher at the Newton Union Service to be held next Sunday, July 15th, at the Newton Congregational Church. Service will be held at 10 a.m., with facilities provided for the care of children.

Dr. MacDonald, a graduate of Bowdoin College and Union Seminary, held pastorates in Wilton, Maine, and New York City before coming to Waban. He will be on call for pastoral care for all cooperating churches from July 13th to July 20th, and may be reached at LA 7-6221 or DE 2-0293.

Music for this service will be provided by Edward H. Hastings, organist and Mrs. Darthea Trickey Wells, soprano.

Next week the service will be held at The Newton Highlands Congregational Church and Rev. Daniel Bliss of the Second Church in West Newton, will preach.

dates picked by the convention.

It's conceivable that the State Committee might support either Lodge or Brooke and not back the other, but it's highly improbable, and it would be a move which would create intensive feeling.

Hot Dispute Forecast On Short Count Claim

Elliot Richardson's claim that a short count deprived him of a first-ballot victory in his quest for the Republican endorsement for Attorney General at the Worcester convention, may also touch off a row at next Monday night's State Committee meeting.

The unusual aspect to this situation is that Republican officials now concede that Richardson was short-changed one vote when a delegate was polled.

But they assert that this mistake was balanced off because Richardson was credited with a vote too many on another convention when a vote was counted for an absent delegate.

Richardson sharply challenges the latter contention. He declares that the delegate supposedly absent was actually in his seat and that he has an affidavit to prove it.

Regardless of which version is correct, this reflects the confusion which prevailed at times at the Republican State Convention and the inefficiency surrounding the tabulation of the vote totals.

This writer's tally indicated that mistakes were made in recording the votes in both the Richardson-Brooke and Curtis-Lodge fights.

But when no protests were voiced by representatives of either Richardson or Curtis, we assumed that we had made the errors during the tumult and confusion.

Subsequently, it developed that there was no opportunity for spokesmen for either Richardson or Curtis to make any objection if they chose to do so.

The hard fact is that the Republicans did not take the same precautions to guard against possible errors in tabulating the vote that the Democrats did at their convention in Springfield.

Each candidate was allowed to have two observers on the platform as the roll was being called at the Democratic convlave. If a mistake was made, it was quickly rectified.

No such checkers were allowed on the platform at the Republican convention. If a

Retires After 20 Years With U.S. Air Force

Lieutenant Colonel Alfred L. Mellor, son of Mrs. Mary F. Mellor of 24 Grove street, Auburndale, has retired from the United States Air Force after more than 20 years active duty.

Colonel Mellor, who attended the University of Denver and Harvard Business School, holds the B.S., B.A. and M.B.A. degrees. He is married to the former Virginia Nogas of Hartford. They have four children.

Four Hurt Here In Car Mishaps

Doctors at Newton-Wellesley Hospital treated Miss Charlotte L. Randall, 21, of 29 Washington Pk., Newtonville, for head and knee injuries suffered when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in an accident.

According to police, she was in a car operated by Joseph R. Soprano, 22, of the same address, which was in a collision with a car driven by Jesse Aronson of 888 Chestnut St., Newton Upper Falls.

Miss Randall was one of four persons injured as a result of auto accidents in Newton Saturday.

Brina Shneider, 20, of 72 Withington Rd., Newtonville, and Nancy H. Fine, 19, of 22 Blake St., Newtonville, were listed as injured when their car struck a tree while making a right turn near 68 Harvard St., Newtonville.

In another mishap Richard Nelson of 23 Selwyn Rd., Newton Highlands, suffered a knee injury when his front tire blew out and the car hit a pole on Parker St., Newton Centre.

mistake was made by the clerk, it stayed made. There was no opportunity for representatives of the candidates to oversee exactly what was being recorded and to point out any errors.

Richardson obviously has a legitimate complaint. If his claims are correct, he should have been declared the winner on the first ballot.

Its a frustrating thing to lose a convention endorsement because the clerk failed to hear a delegate when he called out the name of the candidate for whom he was voting.

It's not exactly a source of great comfort to be told that this mistake did occur but that it was offset by another error which worked in Richardson's favor.

But from the standpoint of the professional politicians, any mistake made on the first ballot, however critical they may have been, should have been discovered before the second ballot was begun.

Once the call of the roll was started for the second ballot, no one possibly could be declared the first-ballot winner.

No matter what short-counts Richardson subsequently discovered on the first ballot, the second-ballot victory for Brooke could not be wiped out or reversed.

Very Small, Odd Envelopes To Face Mail Ban

Very small and odd-shaped envelopes will be banned from the mails starting January 1, 1963, as a major preliminary step towards standardization of mail sizes — essential to the most efficient use of mechanization, according to Postmaster Ephraim Martin.

Mail less than 3 inches high or 4 1/4 inches long will be banned. It must meet both the height and length minimum standards. Also proscribed will be pieces that are not of the normal rectangular shape — for example, post cards in the shape of autos, animals and the like. At the same time, while there will not be an outright ban, the Department will ask mailers, starting January 1, to stop mailing pieces not sealed or secured at all four edges and pieces which are square or virtually square in shape. These types also cause difficulties in modern canceling machines and other postal mechanization equipment.

Actually these proposals were given to envelope manufacturers as long ago as May, 1960 and during consultations with envelope makers and large mailers modifications were made in the Department's proposals along the lines they suggested.

Postmaster Martin pointed out that these restrictions are the first of their kind ever imposed on domestic mail, although the need for some type of standardization as a prelude to greater mechanization has been apparent for years. He cited the fact that Russia permits only 6 envelope sizes and West Germany limits it to twelve, but in the United States the postoffice is faced with over 2,000 different sizes and shapes of mailing pieces. The only previous restrictions on letter-type mail in the U. S. have been on international mail, which must meet minimum sizes of 2 3/4 x 4 inches under the standards prescribed by the Universal Postal Union of countries.

All four new standards — two mandatory and two recommended — provide other advantages as well as assisting in the sorting and handling of mail. They will reduce loss of small pieces of mail in sacks, for example.

Average individuals will seldom encounter any difficulty with the new standards because the bulk of the standard envelope now in use already complies. The average person uses a very small envelope only when mailing baby announcements or similar specialized types of announcements. However, manufacturers are already making these types of cards to the new minimum sizes.

Students Set For Annual Seminar At Edmands Park

For the next six weeks Edmands Park, 35 acres of unkempt woodland in the heart of Newtonville, will be alive with the sound of axes, rakes and the voices of the 23 high school students attending the Tufts-Newton Public Affairs Seminar. The general objective of the seminar, which meets at the Warren Junior High School, each morning is to investigate the question: The educated individual as responsible citizen: What must he value, know, and be able to do? In the afternoon the students plan to conduct a survey and to continue the effort, started in 1961 to clean up Edmands Park.

Edmands Park is one of the few publicly owned open spaces in the congested suburban city of Newton. In extent, it covers over 35 acres of hills, ravines, and tree-clad slopes. Given in trust to the city by the Edmands brothers some 50 years ago, the park today represents a land and potential park facility of great value.

The park has not been developed by city authorities and has been maintained and supervised only on a minimal basis. During the depression of the 1930s, the WPA developed a plan for the park and for the construction of stone walls, trails, and a dam to create a pleasant pond at its center. Substantial work was accomplished in the 1930s to make this plan a reality, but the advent of World War II brought an end to this development. Since that time, no capital or substantial work has been invested in the park by the city, and it has steadily deteriorated.

The park has become an overgrown wilderness, its trails have virtually disappeared, and it is disfigured by the litter of rubbish and beer cans deposited in it during two decades of relative abandonment. The dam is overgrown, trees have not been cared for, and this potentially valuable nature and recreation center for the city is of little credit or use to Newton.

The city has no policy about its future development, and it stands as a prime example of urban waste and planlessness. Neighboring families are afraid to let their children play in the park, and its chief use is as a dumping ground for rubbish and as an ill-reputed trysting place at night.

Edmands Park presents a challenge to the Seminar at a number of levels. Its members study its possible physical resources and how they might be developed. They examine alternative policies and plans for the park and decide upon recommendations to be made to the city government. For direct action, the students are tackling the actual rehabilitation of the abandoned trails which have not been kept up since the 1930s and are planting trees and bushes where needed. Beyond this, they feel that the shaping of the future of the park by civic action is a cause which enlists the energies of the Seminar participants as a concrete way to play a part in Newton's community life.

Mrs. Melvin Darack of 164 Kirkstall Rd., and who has long had a deep interest in the park's potentialities, told some students: "I feel that even if the park remains in its present condition, it is still a big asset to the community. However, it seems a pity that more people don't avail themselves of its advantages. Ignorance of the park is the biggest problem."

Members of the seminar are—Participating Students: Joanne Agababian, Barbara

LORENZ F. MUTHER, JR.

Rep. Muther Seeking New House Term

Representative Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., announced this week that he will stand for reelection to a second term from the fifth Middlesex district which takes in Wards 4, 5, 6 and 8 of Newton, comprising the south side of the city from Chestnut Hill to Auburndale.

An attorney, executive of the Newton Taxpayers' Association and founder of Newton Conservators, Inc., Muther will seek renomination in the Republican primary in September.

He has been recorded on every rollcall since becoming a member of the House of Representatives, is a member of the legislative committee on education and has filed and secured the passage of various bills sponsored by Newtonians.

As an example, Muther pointed out that the accident at Newton High School last fall has led to a review of public safety laws covering bleachers and scaffolds. He cited also that Newton police have been authorized to remove illegally parked cars from private property under a pilot law which is expected to become a model for the rest of the State.

One aspect of Muther's service on Beacon Hill has been his annual 10,000-word report to the voters.

"These reports demonstrate in a practical way my belief in a Representative's duty to keep in touch so the citizens will know what their Representative is doing," he asserted. "I believe they also foster the concept of basic individual responsibility in government and in the community — a concept which I think can stand more emphasis these days."

Commenting on the plan for allowing the erection of buildings over the toll road in Newton, Muther said that Newton's building and zoning controls will remain unimpaired under the Turnpike Authority's proposal for leasing air rights.

"Since the toll road extension soon will be a fact, the city can gain financially by such controlled construction," he declared.

Muther has attended conferences with Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan and State Commissioner of Administration and Finance Charles Gibbons to discuss the late-filed "air rights" bill.

He said the Turnpike Authority has agreed to certain modifications in its plan, one of which suggested by Muther himself would put a time limit on the period in which long-term air right leases can be offered without additional legislation. Another modification proposed by Representative Francis W. Perry of Duxbury, Republican candidate for Governor, would clarify municipal taxing powers.

issue of the University's Phi Beta Alpha Fraternity publication, the Advocate.

In the issue of the Advocate which has his photograph on its cover as a "giant . . . who places himself among boys, standing just beyond their adolescence, drawing them into manhood . . . a friend who calls us brother."

Election to the fraternity is based on personal merit without regard to race or creed. Fullington holds bachelor and master of arts degrees from the University of Bul-falo. He has attended Harvard University and is currently studying toward a doctorate.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity, and Phi Alpha Theta, history honor society, he also holds membership in the American Historical Association and the New England

BRILLIANT CAREER—Capt. Elliot M. Steinman, USNR, receives engraved Paul Revere Bowl and framed citation for his 20-years of naval service from Capt. Ronald L. White (back to camera)

Newton Naval Hero Honored For Long Faithful Service

The 20-year faithful service of Capt. Elliot M. Steinman, U.S.N.R., of 11 Doris circle, Newton, was marked recently at exercises held at the South Weymouth Naval Air Station.

The veteran of the Pearl Harbor attack and a number of subsequent naval engagements with the enemy in the Pacific was presented with an engraved silver Paul Revere Bowl and a framed citation attesting to his years of service. The presentation was made by Capt. Ronald L. White, commanding officer of the Reserve Air Wing Staff of which Capt. Steinman is a member.

Capt. Steinman is a survivor of the sinking of the U.S.S. Meredith (DD-434) during the Guadalcanal campaign.

His wife, Margaret, also is a World War II and Pearl Harbor veteran in her own right as an ex-Army nurse. Capt. and Mrs. Steinman have two daughters, Martha Anne, 16, and Jean Sayre, 12. In civilian life he is sales manager for the Ryan Stain and Blacking Co., Boston.

As a lieutenant (j.g.), he was aboard the converted minesweeper, U.S.S. Vireo (AM-52) as navigator and gunnery officer at Pearl Harbor during the Japanese attack, on Dec. 7, 1941. A few months later, it was Capt. Steinman's ship that put a tow on the carrier U.S.S. Yorktown after she was heavily damaged in the Battle of Midway, on June 5, 1942. As a result of this action, his ship nearly met disaster as an enemy submarine scored two more torpedo hits on Yorktown, blowing apart the destroyer Hammann, which had tied alongside Yorktown to

The funds are urgently needed to send the most needy youngsters to the big $10-acre camp in South Athol, and also to maintain a city-wide program for mothers and children, and the work of eight other agencies serving all ages and needs.

More than one thousand children were recommended by thirty social agencies for camp, but only 500 can be accepted.

All the children are either underweight, emotionally upset, live under extremely crowded conditions, have only one parent or come from broken homes.

Mr. Gordon said at a public hearing Monday night that the new post office would be located on the street floor, and this plan has been approved by the Auburndale Improvement Association and two of the abutters.

He added that plans for the proposed office building were drawn by a former Post Office architect to government specifications, although there has been no commitment from the government on the proposal. The Post Office, he said, would have 3,550 square feet on the first floor and an insurance company is interested in leasing the entire second floor of the proposed building.

The Post Office has been interested for the past two years in obtaining a new location for the Auburndale Branch Office.

Mr. Gordon's proposal was endorsed by former Alderman Warren A. Sutherland of 40 Williston St., and Payson LeBaron of 28 King St.

Presents His Exclusive BODY WAVE $10.00

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily. It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resiliency to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

World's Richest Dog Classic At Wonderland

Wonderland Park becomes the greyhound racing center of the world on the night of July 20 when the 28th running of the famed $25,000 stake which is to the greyhound sport what the Kentucky Derby is to thoroughbred racing, has attracted the finest field in its colorful history.

A total of 64 select nominees have been accepted and the list represents the Who's Who in greyhound competition. It includes the best from every corner of this nation as well as an imported star from England and another from Mexico to add international flavor.

From this tremendous field only eight will be able to go boxward in the big event on July 20. To be one of these select finalists all nominees will have to battle through four elimination rounds on the nights of July 5, 9, 13 and 17. Those who then make the top run will have earned it on total points.

Oak Hill Cubs Win Babe Ruth League Title

The Oak Hill Cubs clinched the Newton Babe Ruth League first-half championship last week with a 5-0 win over St. Jean's at Albermarle Playground in a game marked by the one-hitter pitched by George Berry.

The 15-year-old southpaw missed his bid for no-hit fame when Jim McLaughlin tapped an infield single in the seventh inning.

In a game at Lincoln Park, the Waban Chiefs came from behind to score two runs in the fifth and register an 8-7 win over the Sinoyans.

St. Bernard's White Sox counted a 6 to 4 victory over the Elks Red Sox at Newton High Field as Ted Morrissey singled during the bases-loaded final inning.

Dana Mills provided a grand slam homer in the second inning as the Boys' Club beat the Police AA, 10 to 4, at Albermarle Playground. Joe Schipani went the route for the winners and allowed only five hits.

Three hits were scored off Mike Gradone as the Totem Pole Braves blanked out Lady's 9 to 0. Gradone struck out 12 batters, walked only two and singled twice to drive in three of the nine runs.

Young Local Musicians To Feature Summer Pops

Newton's talented young musicians figure prominently in the plans of the Brighton Pops Summer season, according to an announcement this week from Mrs. Marion Sutcliffe of 386 Winchester street, Newton, president and artistic director of the Pops.

An original composition by 17-year-old David Jodrey of 30 Thornton st., will be presented by the orchestra during the season. David's "Chorale and Theme with Variations" was recently played by the Boston Pops Orchestra under the baton of Arthur Fiedler.

Also chosen to perform with the Pops at the Metropolitan Boston Arts Center tent on Soldiers Field Rd., Brighton, was soprano Cheryl Owlick 17, of 159 Tremont st., Newton. Cheryl auditioned for Mrs. Sutcliffe and Mr. Rouben Gregorian, conductor of the Boston Conservatory Orchestra, the Portland Symphony and oftentimes guest conductor at the Boston Pops.

David is the son of Arthur and Madeline Jodrey and has a brother, Charles, 8, and a sister, Linda, 14, but says he is the only "active" musician in the family. The rest are listeners.

He has written two major classical works, the "Chorale and Theme" and a "Prelude and Fugue" and is a student at Newton High School.

Cheryl, who auditioned with the aria "Vedrai, Carino" from Mozart's Don Giovanni, has been studying voice for the past three years with Miss Ellnor Davis of Boston.

The daughter of Mrs. Bertha Owlick, Cheryl has two sisters, Verna, 18, and Jan, 8. She was a member of the graduating class at Newton South High School in June.

She has recently sung roles in the Newton South High School production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" and the Newton High School production of "The Gondoliers," and was guest soloist at the Newton South High School Pops Night.

Cheryl was recently awarded the N.S.H.S. 1962 Music Award.

David and Cheryl will each receive a $100 savings bond for his and her contribution to the Summer season at the Brighton Pops and will compete during the last two weeks of the season for the scholarships which are to be awarded from funds raised through admissions over the season and contributions.

The Brighton Pops is a non-profit charitable and educational foundation dedicated to

Toll Rd. Refugee Seeks To Move To Smaller Lot

The Newton Zoning Board of Appeals has scheduled a hearing at City Hall on Tuesday, July 24, on the request of Thomas J. Whalen to move his home to a sub-standard lot because he is being displaced by the Boston Toll Road extension.

The Toll Road is taking Mr. Whalen's property at 22 Farquhar Rd., Newtonville. He seeks legalization of two existing lots at 44-46 Otis St., Newtonville, several blocks from his present location.

Mr. Whalen has requested permission to move his house to a lot of 6,265 square feet with a frontage of 50 feet. The other lot with an existing two-family dwelling would be on 7,321 square feet with a 113 foot frontage.

These lots are in Residence B. District where the area for existing lots is 10,000 square feet and 80 foot frontage.

Five other petitions will be heard by the Board, starting at 7:45 p.m. Two seek permission to construct additions to homes; two for legalization of sub-standard lots and permission to buy land from an abutter.

2500 Playground Kiddies To Witness Plays Tuesday

Approximately 2500 children from Newton's 33 playgrounds will witness two plays to be presented by the Boston Children's Theatre Group at the Auburndale Playground next Tuesday (July 24).

They will see a performance of "The Wizard of Oz" at 11 o'clock in the morning and "The Golden Goose" at 2 p.m. in the afternoon. The admission charge at each show will be 10 cents per child.

Play leaders on the 33 playgrounds throughout the city will accompany their youthful charges to the Auburndale Playground to attend the two performances. Acting Recreation Commissioner Harold T. Pilsbury has designated next Tuesday as "Picnic Day for All Playgrounds" at Auburndale. He said the two plays will provide outstanding entertainment for the youngsters.

Ted Kennedy Seen Favorite McCormack Rated Underdog

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy will be favored to win over Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in their battle for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

McCormack is a potential contender. He is putting on the most aggressive campaign he has ever waged. But he will be the underdog as he and Ted Kennedy come down their race toward Primary Day.

This is just the reverse of the picture which appeared to exist last winter when the two started the battle which is attracting the attention of the entire nation.

At that time McCormack was generally expected to capture the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention.

This was tacitly conceded by members of the Kennedy camp who expressed confidence that their man would be victorious in the primary even if he failed to get the convention nod.

In the early stages of the struggle between McCormack and Kennedy for delegate support McCormack seemed clearly to be ahead.

At some point in the race Kennedy overtook McCormack, passed him and surged on to the blitz victory he finally scored on a steamy June night in a throbbing Springfield convention hall.

NEWTON SEAMAN-ARTIST—Gaylord Gay of Newton, tanker-seaman with an unusual hobby, shown at home with a few of his fine oil paintings.

Newtonite Has Odd Hobby at Sea

Tanker Seaman Spends Off Hours With Brush, Canvas

How does a seaman aboard a modern tanker spend his off hours? Seaman Gaylord Gay, of Newton, aboard the tanker Esso Baltimore, has no part of the age-old pursuits of whittling, reading, yarn spinning, knot tying, and TV watching, although they all have their adherents and are popular.

The Newton seaman has a most unusual hobby while aboard ship. He does oil painting. In his home in Newton. Most of these have been painted during his 80-day tours at sea aboard tankers of the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

Gay does 12 to 15 canvases during the 80 day stretch of duty at sea while his ship plies between Baytown, Texas; Baton Rouge, La.; and East Coast ports. He also gives art lessons aboard ship to other crew members interested in following his hobby.

Most of his work, naturally, has to do with marine subjects and coastlines, but lately he has done a number of animals, especially horses.

A 15-year-old Brighton boy was held in $2000 bail in Newton district court by Judge Gardner W. Russell Tuesday and was accused of four day-time burglaries. He had been arrested after a police chase at the Chestnut Hill Country Club golf course.

Police allege that the youth went from house to house looking for unlocked doors and that he committed the following breaks in the course of his canvass: June 22—at the home of Irving Sanders, 131 Waban Hill Rd. North, Chestnut Hill, where a radio and $200 in cash were taken.

Zoo Travels To Two Playgrounds In City Friday

MDC zoo performers will be presented for the children of Newton at two playgrounds in the city tomorrow (Friday), it was announced yesterday by Acting Recreation Commissioner Harold T. Pilsbury.

Youngsters on the north side of the city will see the travelling zoo at the Auburndale Playground at 10 a.m. Friday morning.

Boys and girls on the south side of the city will view the same performance at the Newton Centre Playground at 1:30 Friday afternoon. Admission will be free at both performances.

Acting Commissioner Pilsbury declared that the travelling zoo will provide both fun and education for the children, declaring that it will give them an opportunity to learn about animals and at the same time enjoy the show.

Pilsbury described it as an extremely "worthwhile" performance and requested all play leaders to encourage children on their playgrounds to see it.

Provisions In Air Rights Bill Differ In Newton And Hub, Mayor Gibbs Explains

Charges made by Republican Senators that Thurnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan would be given a blank check to execute any leases he desires for the erection of buildings over the toll road under the air rights bill enacted by the Legislature, are not true in the case of Newton, Mayor L. Gibbs emphasized today.

Gibbs explained that the provisions contained in the air rights measure are altogether different for Newton and for Boston. He said the complaints of the GOP Solons are directed against the portion of the bill applying to Boston.

Mayor Gibbs declared that the proposed new law gives Newton the controls which Governor Volpe and others have maintained should be granted to Boston's municipal government.

The Mayor stressed that Newton is completely protected under the air rights measure and has full powers to control every building erected over the toll road.

Apparently the confusion concerning the bill stems from the fact that Boston's Mayor John F. Collins is not seeking the same controls on the above-the-road buildings which Mayor Gibbs demanded.

Open Burning At Pine Street Dump Is Ended

Open burning at the Pine street dump in Auburndale has been ended, much to the gratification of residents of the area who have been clamoring for some time to have it stopped.

A State Health Department permit sanctioning the burning expired at the start of this week, and Newton Public Works Commissioner Willard S. Pratt did not seek to renew it.

Lumber, tree branches and brush collected in Newton have been trucked to the Pine street dump in the past to be burned. In the future it will be taken to the Plowed Meadow area to be buried.

A portion of the Pine street dump will still be kept open for dumping purposes.

Political Highlights

Exactly when that happened doesn't matter too much now and is a subject which would be of academic interest only to the political analysts.

But the power and strength behind Kennedy's drive, especially during the weeks and days just before the Springfield conclave, simply overwhelmed McCormack.

McCormack now declares that the contest in the Democratic primary, where more than 600,000 voters will be going to the polls, will be altogether different than the fight for the votes of 1800 delegates.

That obviously is true. But as things presently shape up, the political odds appear to be in favor of Kennedy and against McCormack.

Kennedy and McCormack both will have some factors working in their favor.

Political experts generally figure that the endorsement of the Democratic State convention is worth at least 30,000 votes in an ordinary primary fight.

By that they mean that they estimate there are 30,000 Democrats who usually vote for the convention nominee simply because he is the convention choice and without regard for any other considerations.

Whether that rule-of-thumb will hold true in the Kennedy-McCormack conflict, which is not an ordinary contest but rather a spectacular clash between two big-name opponents, is uncertain.

However, there is no question that Ted Kennedy will benefit to some degree from the fact that he carried the convention endorsement. It could produce a tidy windfall of votes for him.

There is little doubt, for example, that Endicott Peabody would have defeated Joseph D. Ward for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the 1960 primary if Peabody had been the convention choice instead of Ward, who won because he was the convention nominee.

So that is one element which will weigh in favor of Ted Kennedy and against McCormack in the primary.

Ted will benefit from the prestige, the power and the popularity of his older brother in the primary, just as he did at the convention.

There is no evidence that either President Kennedy or U. S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy intervened in the convention fight or that they intend to do so in the primary. In fact, they couldn't take part in the primary campaign without showing their hands.

But no objective political observer could realistically dispute the statement that Ted Kennedy was aided at the convention by the fact that he was the younger brother of the President of the United States and that this probably will similarly help him in the primary.

Despite his youth and the fact that he is making his first run for public office, Ted Kennedy is an able political campaigner. He is affable, easy-to-meet and has a pleasing personality. In some ways he is a more aggressive and forceful campaigner than McCormack.

Kennedy obviously will have access to far greater financial resources for his campaign than will McCormack. This is a more important factor than many people realize.

McCormack, on the other hand, has the experience issue on his side. He has served nine years in public office, five as a Boston City Councillor and four as Attorney General.

Tests of public sentiment indicate that most Democratic voters believe McCormack has been a good Attorney General and that he has done as effective a job in combating corruption as anyone could have done.

Some public resentment exists against Ted Kennedy for standing for the U. S. Senate in his first bid for public office. How much of a factor this will be by mid-September is uncertain.

Ted Kennedy unquestionably will be able to break down part of that hostility in the next two months. This is the big handicap facing him in his fight.

While the professional politicians have been choosing up sides in the McCormack-Kennedy battle, the guessing is that they will not play any real part in shaping its outcome.

In a widely publicized campaign such as this one, Democratic voters will make up their own minds on whether they want to cast their ballots for Kennedy or McCormack in the privacy of their polling places. The fact that some politician favors one candidate or the other isn't likely to make much of an impression on them.

Leadership of Powers Outstanding in Senate

In a period when something equivalent to a state of civil war exists in the House of Representatives, the smooth and orderly procedure in the State Senate stands out like a political beacon.

This is a tribute to the extremely able and steady leadership of Senate President John E. Powers who by far has been the outstanding figure in the 1962 legislative session.

There have been the clashes between the Democratic majority and the Republican minority that are to be expected. At times there have been disagreements between Senators of the same political party. Democratic Senators occasionally have rowed with each other. So have Republican Solons.

At no time during the long legislative session, however, has there been any departure

Dr. Kuebler Is Sought To Help Moore Fund Plan

Dr. Ernest W. Kuebler, West Newton, has been asked by the Hugh Moore Fund to develop an education and action program designed to inform and interest U.S. citizens who wish to deal with the world population explosion.

The Hugh Moore Fund of New York and Easton, Pa., an educational foundation devoted to international affairs founded in 1944, will sponsor a packet of educational materials on this subject to be made available to local religious, fraternal and civic groups.

Dr. Kuebler is the interim minister of the First Unitarian Society in Newton. For the past 26 years he was an executive officer and director of the division of education of the American Unitarian Association and the Council of Liberal Churches (Unitarian-Unitarian).

He is the recent representative of the International Association for Religious Freedom, the Hague, Netherlands, and is on the governing board of the Albert Schweitzer College, Churwalden, Switzerland, as well as being president of the Board of Trustees of Proctor Academy, Andover, N.H.

He has lectured widely on university campuses in the United States and Canada on youth and adult education and is a recognized group leader.

Named To Honor Roll

Michael Joseph Whalen of Newton recently achieved a place on the honor roll for the 1962 spring semester at the University of Oklahoma. Dr. George L. Cross, president of the university announced this week.

from orderly procedure or above-board political protocol.

No bills have been steamrollered through the Senate. No measures have been gavelled to death without giving supporters of the proposal an opportunity to present their arguments.

At least one measure which Powers himself sponsored and fought for was defeated in the Senate while he presided with scrupulous impartiality. That's the way he runs the Senate.

The difference between the procedure frequently followed in the House and that always followed in the Senate was reflected strikingly by the manner in which the so-called "air rights" bill, which would make possible the erection of buildings over the Massachusetts Toll Road was passed by the two legislative chambers.

In the House the measure was gavelled through in strong-arm fashion, with opponents of the measure given no real chance to present their arguments against the bill or to suggest changes in it.

No such tactics were employed in the Senate. Objectors to the bill were allowed to talk themselves hoarse. Six amendments to the measure were offered. All were defeated. However, no one was deprived of the right to suggest any revisions he wished in the bill.

The debate lasted nearly five hours, with eight different rollcalls. When it was concluded, everyone had been afforded the opportunity to speak his piece.

When the Republican leadership objected to a Democratic motion that the Senate go into a second legislative day and give the measure final approval, the motion was withdrawn and action delayed for three days.

The final result was the same in the House and the Senate. But it was arrived at by dictatorial methods in the House and by the democratic process in the Senate.

That is why you hear so much criticism of the way in which House sessions are conducted, while everyone takes it for granted that the Senate sessions will be run in a manner above criticism under the leadership of the fair-minded Powers.

Air Rights-

in the air rights bill by the Legislature, the fact is that Gibbs had a slight revision made in the measure to give Newton even stronger controls than were originally proposed.

A section of the bill applying to Newton says:

"The construction or occupancy of any building or other thing erected or affixed under any lease under this section of air rights... shall be subject to any building, fire, garage, health or zoning laws or ordinances, rules or regulations of the city..."

Mayor Gibbs had the reference to ordinances, rules or regulations added to the bill. Before any building at all can be erected over the toll road in Newton, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen first must establish a zone since the air space above the toll road now is unzoned.

A new ordinance presently is being drafted which would empower the Mayor and Aldermen to create such zones.

There can be no deviation from building, fire, health or garage requirements unless it is sanctioned by both the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen.

Mayor Gibbs said that so far as he knows the only structure over the toll road in Newton is the proposed new Star Market in Newtonville.

The Mayor asserted that he has no objection to the measure since it contains every safeguard he requested.

Beauty Salon Open House Is Held in Waban

An "Open House" was held recently for the newly designed and modernized Freda's Classique Coiffure beauty salon, 1140 Beacon St., Waban, Myrna Kimball, well-known wig consultant, was present for interviews by patrons.

The newly designed salon, reportedly the only one of its kind, was specifically created by designer Bernard Soep to fit in with the uniquely individualistic tempo of Freda's Classique Salon.

Freda's Classique is noted for individual hairdos which are completely personalized. Among Classique's clientele have been Betty Ann Grove, Irene Manning and Patrice Munsel.

Designer Soep said the idea for the shop's unique design, which was done wholly in the Oriental theme, stems from his belief that Oriental design in homes and shops is the theme of the future.

The salon is set in authentic Japanese decor, where murals and designs were copied from actual pieces of true Japanese art. A large mural by Nat Kredenser sets the mood immediately upon entering the shop.

A rich color scheme of persimmon red, jade green and yellow gold, set on a background of white with natural teak wood fixtures, fulfills the Japanese motif the entire length of the Salon. The entrance door and part of the front wall are copied from true Japanese screen designs in natural teak wood.

Postal Advice For Preventing Vacation Thefts

Mail which is permitted to accumulate in home receptacles serves notice that the residents are away and makes theft easy. Postmaster Ephraim Martin issued an appeal to all families who plan to be absent from their homes to make arrangements with their letter carrier for the handling of their letters, magazines, newspapers and other forms of mail during such an absence.

In providing vacation addresses to the postoffice for the forwarding of mail it is important that the name of the summer postoffice be furnished and not merely the name of a resort, said postal officials.

In planning a vacation for an extended period include a roll or book of stamps with other necessities. Many favorite areas are a considerable distance from the village postoffice.

While closing the house preparatory to leave for vacation don't leave milk bottles, newspapers and other daily deliveries accumulate. Police officials also suggest that shades not be drawn or blinds closed.

Lane from the First Baptist Church in Newton, were among the 160 delegates to the National Laboratory School for administrators and workers with children, which met on the 1,100 acre grounds of the American Baptist Assembly at Green Lake, Wisconsin, from June 30 to July 14.

Their daughters, Gail A. Lane and Ann L. Thompson attended the "Teenivities" program while their mothers were in session at the Laboratory School.

This was the first in the 1962 series of National Laboratory Schools, and the 19th year for conferences at the American Baptist Assembly. About 35,000 guests attend one or more of the 250 conferences held year-round at the Green Lake facility.

EVERY ONE WHO HAS RETIRED

to give him fresh purpose

If you are among the ever-increasing number of retired workers, or are planning to retire—if you are seeking wider horizons for usefulness—then you will want to turn to the truths contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

Christian Science explains that man, as the image and likeness of God, is constantly expressing a higher sense of activity and can find new opportunities for usefulness.

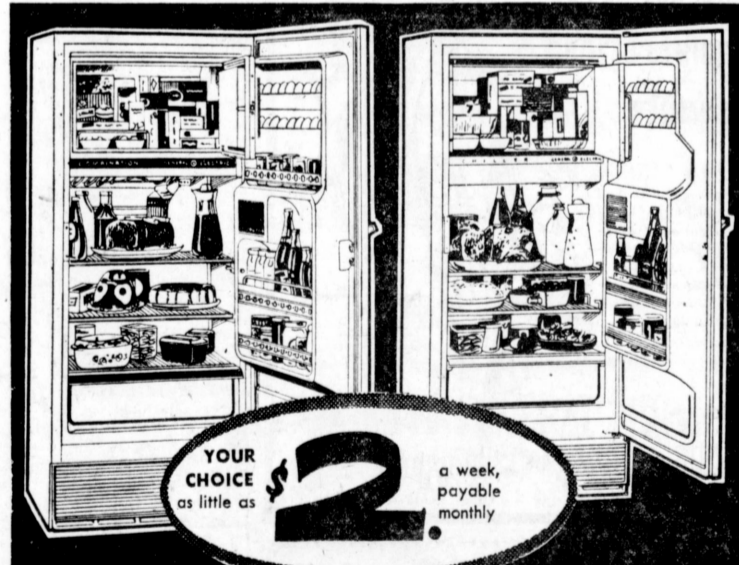

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

300 Walnut Street, Newtonville
HOURS: 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Daily
Fridays 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Return To Crime Scene Unwise...

Youths Caught After Blowing Up Mail Box

Two Lexington boys, who allegedly blew up a mail box at Walnut and Clyde streets, Newtonville, were apprehended by police Monday night when one of the two drove back past the scene of the crime to see how much damage had been done by a cherry bomb dropped into the mail box.

Police and an acting postal supervisor spotted the youthful mail box bomber, thanks to the alertness of a 16-year-old Newton boy, and captured one of the two after a chase of four blocks on Walnut street.

His companion, who did not want to drive back past the mail box and was waiting to be picked up by his friend, was arrested when police showed up to keep the rendezvous.

The two Lexington youths, who may be in serious trouble, since blowing up a mail box is not regarded as a harmless prank by federal authorities, are aged 16 and 17 respectively.

Their arrest was made possible by the fact that a 16-year-old Newton boy told police he had seen a small black foreign car, with one headlight out of commission, stop at the mail box and that a boy who got out of the car tossed what appeared to be a firecracker into the mail box.

By JUDY LAMBERT

Editor's Note: Judith A. Lambert, 389 Woodard St., Waban, patrol leader of Mariner Troop 20 is covering the Girl Scout Vermont Round-Up for The Newton Graphic. Judy writes most interestingly of the opening activities of the Round-Up and events preceding it.

The Quinobegun Patrol, eight sleepers but excited Senior scouts from Newton and Waltham, left for the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup at 6:45 a.m. on July 18.

Traveling on the special Roundup bus from Shoppers World in Framingham, we began our Roundup experiences by getting acquainted with the girls from Framingham, Natick, and other surrounding towns. The six-hour bus ride went very quickly.

Three children also were treated at the hospital for injuries sustained in accidents. Marjorie Yesley, 14, of 8 Whitney rd., Newtonville, sustained head injuries in a fall from her bicycle.

Steven Pescosolido, 3, of 1 Winslow ter., Newton Centre, also was treated for a head injury suffered in a fall near his home.

Brian McCarthy, 9, of 23 Glenwood ave., Newton Centre, was treated for a cut forearm.

the mail box with Acting Postal Superintendent Morris Burakoff when they noticed a youth drive past in a small black foreign car with one headlight out.

They immediately set out in pursuit of the car and overtook it after a short chase. The two boys were arraigned in Newton district court Tuesday on a charge of setting off a firecracker. Their case was continued until tomorrow (Friday).

Whether federal authorities will step in and take over the case is uncertain. They are conducting an investigation, and a postal investigator obtained the damaged mail box.

Superintendent Timothy J. O'Neil of the Newtonville post-office reported that four letters were damaged and that a number of others were destroyed. O'Neil said that persons who sent the letters are being notified in all instances where there are sufficient remnants to provide their names and addresses.

Tennant Opposes Two Incinerator Sites In Newton

A sharp increase in traffic which is inevitable when the West Newton interchange of the toll road extension is placed in use, was cited this week by Alderman Robert Tennant as a reason for not locating the proposed new $2 million incinerator at either the old Pine street dump or the new Rumford avenue dump.

Tennant estimated that about 19,000 vehicles a day will be using the West Newton and Newton Corner ramps of the interchange when the toll road is completed.

"Even if half that number uses these ramps, it would create a serious traffic problem," Tennant declared as he expressed "strong opposition" to erecting the incinerator either at Pine street or Rumford avenue.

He said he had learned from authentic sources that Rumford avenue would be picked as the location for the incinerator if borings show the incinerator can be built there.

4 Newton Solons Lend Gibbs Support To Win Legislative Campaign

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs spearheaded a successful fight on Beacon Hill this week against a bill to revise the formula for assessing the MTA deficit upon the 14 cities and towns served by the transit system.

The measure, which would have added an estimated $4 to Newton's tax rate if enacted into law, was killed by the House of Representatives on a roll-call vote of 126 to 81.

Newton's four members of the House — Representatives John W. Whittemore, George E. Rawson, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., and Arthur G. Heaney—worked closely with Gibbs in lining up fellow legislators to vote against the MTA bill.

Gibbs yesterday praised the land Branch line, was established.

Primary Battles Take Form In Newton House Districts

Contests will be waged for the two Democratic nominations for the House of Representatives in one Newton legislative district and for the two Republican endorsements in the city's other House district.

This was disclosed as the deadline expired at 5 p.m. Tuesday for filing nomination signatures with the Newton Registrars of Voters.

Three candidates will battle it out for the two Democratic nominations for the House in the fourth Middlesex district which takes in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7.

The opposing contenders are Alderman Joseph G. Bradley, former Aldermen Alfred R. Guzzi and Attorney John F. Holden.

The two Republican candidates in that district, both assured of nomination, are Representative John W. Whittemore, who is standing for reelection to a fourth term, and Attorney Frederick G. Fisher, Jr.

Veteran Representative George E. Rawson, who now represents the fourth Middlesex district on Beacon Hill, is not seeking another term, and Fisher will be the Republican candidate in his place.

General Michael J. Galvin of 107 Hobart road, Newton, is not seeking another term, and Fisher will be the Republican candidate in his place.

Curtis, Richardson Aided By GOP Committee Stand

Congressman Laurence Curtis and former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson achieved important victories when members of the Republican State Committee decided to maintain a position of neutrality in the primary contests for the GOP nominations for U. S. Senate and Attorney General.

Governor Volpe also has disclosed that he will not take sides in the Senate battle between Curtis and young George C. Lodge or in the Attorney General contest between Richardson and Boston Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke.

This means Curtis, Lodge, Richardson and Brooke for all practical purposes will be campaigning on their own.

The endorsement of the Republican convention will be of some psychological advantage to Lodge and Brooke, especially with those GOP voters who have no particular interest in any of the candidates.

MTA Buses-

Gibbs sought to enlist the help of Collins who is chairman of the MTA Advisory Board.

One of the Mayor's objections to the proposal is that it would add to the congestion on Newton streets and would inconvenience many Newtonites who use the line to travel between Newton and downtown Boston.

Under McLernon's scheme, the buses would go only as far as Kenmore Square where passengers desiring to continue into downtown Boston would transfer to subway cars.

Gibbs pointed out to Collins that the plan would greatly increase traffic congestion on already heavily travelled Commonwealth avenue in Boston.

S. Hill, Jr., of Framingham, three grandchildren and several cousins and uncles. Burial was in Rindge Cemetery.

In Strong Bid For Lt. Gov.

Herbert L. Connolly, Newton automobile dealer, reported this week that he has gathered more than 25,000 signatures on his nomination papers in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

In making the announcement, the well-known businessman lashed out at "power politics, ward heeler tactics and juvenile dictatorship attempts" that dominated the Springfield pre-primary convention, and called for a complete rewriting of the pre-primary statute or its outright repeal.

"This disturbs me as I have checked all the approach streets and find that in some cases they are not the type to carry heavy truck traffic," Tennant asserted.

"If the incinerator trucks are to come through the West Newton Square area, even an unqualified person such as myself can see a surmounting traffic problem."

Tennant said that serious traffic bottlenecks would be created in the West Newton area if trucks carrying rubbish to the incinerator are added to the heavy flow of traffic.

The Alderman announced that for this reason he is going on record as opposed to building the incinerator either in West Newton or Auburn-dale.

Local Foster Parents Give Help To Little Greek Girl

Mrs. Richard E. Linn and daughters Judy and Karen, of 17 Rosalie Rd., Newton Centre, have financially "adopted" Anastasia Portokalou, an 11-year-old Greek girl, through Foster Parents Plan, Inc., New York City.

Anastasia lives with her mother and 9-year-old brother in Katerinia, in northern Greece. Her father was a shoemaker before his death in 1961 of cancer.

The little girl's mother is a tobacco worker during the busy season. Her earnings never average more than $3.33 a month, year around. The local Welfare Center allows them a monthly dole of $4.00. There is a monthly income of $7.33 for three people, about 27 cents a day. Relatives help the family from time to time, but they also are poor.

The little family lives in a house with two rooms, a hall and kitchen. It is in poor condition. They have two beds, an old iron one and one made of planks, a table and four chairs. They have scant bedding and blankets and the house has almost no heat in winter. Warm clothes and long-sleeved sweaters are non-existent.

Anastasia is tall for her age, and thin, dressed in somber mourning customary among her people after a death. She has pretty honey-colored hair, beautiful blue eyes and good features. She is in the sixth grade of primary school and is a good student. Peculiarly, she has an aptitude and skill as a mechanic but like all little girls the world over, in her free time she likes to play with dolls. It is quite possible that, with opportunity, she can become a teacher or laboratory technician.

Through the Foster Parents' Plan and the kindness of people like Mrs. Linn and her daughters, Anastasia is assured a monthly cash grant of eight dollars, periodic distribution of food and clothing parcels, and special medical care. The 11-year-old girl is 4 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 57 pounds.

have been increased about eight-fold. Newton now pays .79 per cent of the MTA deficit. The Powers proposal would have assessed 6.836 per cent of the transit system losses upon the Garden City.

If the MTA deficit amounted $20 million, Newton would pay about $158,000 under the existing formula.

Under the Powers plan that amount would soar to $1,367,200 which would mean a rise in the city's tax rate of well over $4.

$15 Million Deficit Seen For This Year

However, the indications are that the MTA deficit this year, as a result of the fares increase and slashes in services, will be in the vicinity of $15 million.

Some increase in the percentage of the MTA deficit Newton must pay may be inevitable next year.

An attempt may be made then to assess the deficit on total mileage of track. That would raise Newton's share of the deficit about four-fold — from .79 percent to 3.19 per cent.

Mayor Gibbs and the Newton legislators are breathing a sigh of relief, however, that the attempt to change the formula for distributing the MTA deficit between the 14 cities and towns has been blocked for this year.

JOSEPH SILVANO

Sen. Silvano Is Candidate For New Term

Senator Joseph Silvano is standing for reelection in the senatorial district which includes Wards 1, 6 and 7 of Newton along with Brookline and Ward 22 of Boston.

In submitting his candidacy for a new term to the voters in the three Newton wards, Silvano pledged a continuance of the same high calibre of service he has provided since assuming a place in the Senate.

Silvano is now serving his 10th year in the Legislature, having served seven years in the House and three in the Senate.

He originally won his seat in the Senate when a special election was held early in 1960 to fill a vacancy caused when former Senator Peter M. McCormack resigned to accept appointment as Sheriff of Norfolk County.

An unusual tribute was paid Silvano earlier this year when Republican Senate Leader Fred I. Lamson appointed him as assistant GOP floor leader. Silvano also has functioned during the year as liaison officer between the Senate and the Governor's office.

An extremely active and energetic law-maker, Silvano serves on the legislative committees on education, State administration, towns, and public service.

He has never missed a roll-call vote in either the House or the Senate during the past 10 years.

A well known Brookline businessman, Silvano is a director of the Chestnut Hill Cooperative Bank.

Active for many years in civic and fraternal affairs, Silvano is a former president of the Brookline Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was treasurer of the Elks for nine years and was a member of the Brookline Council of the Knights of Columbus, the Kiwanis Club, the Italian Chamber of Commerce, and was a director of the Brookline Council of Schools.

Before his election to the Legislature, Senator Silvano served for three years as a member of the Brookline School Committee.

While serving in the House he won widespread commendation for his work as a member of a Special Commission on Juvenile Delinquency on which he served for two years.

Several recommendations he made on the basis of studies conducted while on that committee were put into effect at the Lancaster School for Girls and the Shirley School for Boys.

state and country in the World Association of Girl Scouts, and over 300 girls are in the ceremony. We were moved and impressed by the flag raising and proud to be a part of it.

Pin Swapping Is Popular Pastime

We spent the afternoon touring the Roundup site buying forgotten articles at the Trading Post, and swapping our cedar pins with girls from other states. Swapping is a favorite way to get acquainted and our straw hats are heavy with the swaps we have pinned on them.

The other two patrols in our troop finally arrived. They are the Woodland Indians from Chicago and the L'il Stinkers from Texas. At night we met as a troop for the first time and swapped songs from our different regions.

Friday morning we had our first swim in Lake Champlain. The water was cool and refreshing. We got a closer look at the beautiful Adirondacks on the opposite shore.

Friday night we had the first of three all-Roundup programs in the arena. The theme was "Honor the Past." Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, Girl Scout national president, opened the Roundup officially by lighting the large Roundup torch. Included in the program were a welcome from Gov. Ray F. Keyser of Vermont, a stirring recorded message from Lady Baden-Powell, and a challenge from President John F. Kennedy.

At the close of the program, 8,500 inspired Girl Scouts marched out of the arena with a new realization of the im-

Political Highlights

How great a factor it will be is difficult to estimate because clashes such as these have never erupted in the Republican party since it revived the pre-primary convention a decade ago, and there are no past experiences to use as a measuring stick. In the Democratic primary the convention endorsement generally is considered to be worth about 30,000 votes.

Curtis may well become a favorite to defeat Lodge as the primary struggle between the two progresses. There is little doubt that Curtis would have won the endorsement of the Worcester convention except for two factors which operated against him.

One was a handicap he imposed on himself by delaying his entry into the Senate field, thus enabling Lodge to get a big jump on him. By the time Curtis launched his drive many delegates were already pledged to Lodge and were reluctant to go back on their promise and shift to Curtis.

In fairness to Curtis, it should be pointed out that the reason he did not make an earlier decision on running for the Senate was that he was waiting to see what was likely to happen on the congressional redistricting proposal.

Because of his position on the important House Foreign Affairs Committee and his seniority in Congress, Curtis would have preferred to seek a sixth term in the House if there had been an opportunity for him to do so.

A second factor which stymied Curtis in his quest for the convention endorsement was that a few GOP leaders, notably former Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson and former Executive Councillor Winfield Schuster, swung big blocs of delegate votes to young Lodge because of their friendship with his father.

In view of the number of delegates who were committed to Lodge before Curtis entered the race and the number of votes Nelson and Schuster were able to deliver to Lodge in Worcester County, it was remarkable that Curtis came as close as he did to capturing the convention endorsement.

The primary fight between Curtis and Lodge should be altogether different from their clash at the Worcester conclave. Apart from the fact that Lodge carries the convention endorsement, the two will be battling on even terms.

A number of factors now will operate in favor of Curtis. The five-term Congressman has the experience issue on his side. The fact that his congressional district has been broken up and liquidated, leaving no opening for him to stand for reelection, will make an impact upon the thinking of many Republicans.

That Curtis accepted the congressional redistricting plan without a whimper rather than plunge Massachusetts into the chaos of state-wide congressional elections, gained him the respect of many people.

But the biggest element working for Curtis in his primary campaign is the cold political fact that many persons believe he would have a better chance of defeating either Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy or Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in the November election than would the youthful Lodge.

Needless to say, that appraisal is sharply disputed by Lodge and his backers. But it is an opinion held by many sound political observers.

While the Curtis-Lodge contest will not draw the same national attention as the Kennedy-McCormack conflict, it should provide plenty of excitement before it is settled on the night of Sept. 18.

The Brooke-Richardson struggle for the Republican nomination for Attorney General looms as a tossup at this stage.

Brooke demonstrated in the 1960 election that he is a solid vote-getter. He is an excellent speaker and campaigner, with

Legislators Uneasy Over Pay Referendum

Members of the State Legislature have been suffering from acute attacks of the jitters since the Supreme Court ruled that the referendum on repealing the pay raise which the lawmakers voted themselves in November, 1960, must appear on the election ballot next autumn.

It isn't so much the danger of losing $1500-a-year as it is the political consequences of the referendum which is troubling the average legislator.

The likelihood is that the voters will wipe out the pay boost since they are not overly generous in their thinking as to the amount of money that should be paid their elected public representatives.

No legislator will be enthusiastic about taking a cut in pay which is what will happen if the people vote next fall to rescind the salary increase.

But the House and Senate members are more concerned about keeping their posts on Beacon Hill than about retaining the $1500 a year.

The Supreme Court edict revives an issue which the legislators hoped had been pretty well forgotten.

Not only will the referendum be listed on the November ballot, but those candidates trying to unseat House and Senate members will be constantly reminding the people about it.

As a matter of fairness, the members of the Legislature are not over-paid. Even with the present salary schedule, an unusually large number of legislators are retiring from office at the end of this year because they cannot afford the financial sacrifice their public service imposes upon them.

However, the original furor over the pay raise was caused by the way in which it was voted and the fact that it was approved at a special session held after the November election.

If the legislators had voted it during their regular session and in the normal procedure,

Although drawn in a humorous vein they are reminders that could mean the difference between life and death for some of us.

Campus Notes On Newtonites

Ithaca (N.Y.) College announces that Carol Berman has been elected vice-president of the college chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity. Miss Berman, a senior in the Department of Drama, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Berman of 15 Shuman Circle, Newton.

Alfred J. Dellolich, 95 Warwick rd., West Newton, has been named to the President's Honor Roll at Wentworth Institute, according to an announcement from the school. The President's Honor Roll is the highest academic honor to be obtained at Wentworth.

Richard D. Fritz, 20 Cotton st., Newton, and Wilfred G. Solimene, 29 Radcliffe rd., Waban, are currently enrolled in the Public Relations course being offered during the summer session of Babson Institute's Evening Master's Degree program. Mr. Fritz is a student in the daytime Master's of Business Administration degree program at Babson; Mr. Solimene is a public relations consultant with the Mass. TB and Health League.

Steven R. Glickman, 35 Travis Drive, Newton, has been accepted at Nichols College of Business Administration as a freshman in September, according to the announcement from the Dudley, Mass., school's Director of Admissions, James L. Conrad, Jr., this week.

Philip B. Allen was among those Amherst College students honored at Senior Chapel prior to closing of the school semester. He received the Walker Prize for proficiency in mathematics of the second year. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Fred B. Allen.

there could have been little justifiable criticism of it.

Ironically, some legislators who didn't vote for the increase or who weren't even in the House and Senate when it was passed may find the referendum militating against them in their campaigns. Some innocent victims are very likely to get hurt by the reverberations.

That's the way things often are in politics.

Powers Saves Dems On Turnpike Audit

Senate President John E. Powers spared the Democratic party great embarrassment in the coming election when he insisted on the passage of a bill calling for an audit of the books and records of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority as well as a number of other agencies.

It was Powers who pried the bill out of the joint legislative rules committee, where it had been sidetracked, and then sent on its way to Governor Volpe's desk to be enacted into law.

Had that measure been bottled up in committee, it would have been a potent issue in next fall's election and undoubtedly would have cost some legislators their seats.

Powers more than any other individual has improved the image of the Democratic controlled Legislature this year.

Church Service Sunday To Have "Truth" Theme

Progress depends on spiritually meaningful activity. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Scriptural passages will include these verses from Proverbs (4): "Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee. Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established."

A citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 323): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated."

The Golden Text is from II Timothy (2): "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Newton Man Zone Chairman For Northeastern Fund Drive

A Newton resident has been named to a volunteer position in which he will assist Northeastern University in its $40,000,000 Diamond Anniversary Development Program, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Asa S. Knowles, N. U. president.

Harold L. Gordon, 88 Harding street, has agreed to serve as zone chairman in the Fund for Pharmacy, a phase of N. U.'s Development Program. In the program Northeastern will more than double its academic facilities and nearly triple the size of its faculty by 1973, its 75th (diamond) anniversary, to provide for an estimated 32,500 students on its 42-acre Boston campus.

Gordon will assist in the raising of funds for the $2,225,000 life science building that will house Northeastern's new College of Pharmacy, when the structure is completed in the fall of 1963. Ground was broken for this building on May 16.

A 1952 graduate of the New England College of Pharmacy, which will become Northeastern's fifth basic college this September, Gordon is co-owner of the Morning-side Pharmacy, 471 Summer street, Arlington.

Former secretary of the Arlington Pharmaceutical Association, Gordon is also a member of the South Middlesex Druggists Association.

Married, he is the father of three children: Susan A., 4; Robyn C., 2½, and Allan R., 6 months.

Public Novena Of Poor Clares Opens August 3

The tenth annual public novena of the "Poor Clares" cloistered nuns, will begin on Friday, August 3rd, at the chapel of their monastery, 920 Centre street, Jamaica Plain, and will continue through Saturday, August 11th, the eve of the Feast Day of their patroness and co-founder, Saint Clare of Assisi.

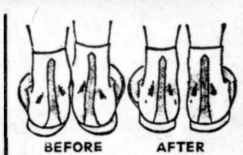

Although the annual Novena has been observed for centuries by the Nuns in all parts of the world where their monasteries are located, it was not until 1953, on the occasion of the 700th anniversary of the death of Saint Clare, that the general public was invited to join with the Sisters in the local ceremonies. Since that time, particular impetus has been noted in the Greater Boston area with hundreds, unable to attend the novena in person, mailing in their petitions asking the nuns for the intercession of Saint Clare.

This year, again, the "Poor Clares" invite their friends and devotees of Saint Clare, Catholic and non-Catholic alike, to join with them in their devotions and will welcome all mail addressed to "The Monastery of St. Clare, 920 Centre street, Jamaica Plain 30."

The Novena exercises will begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock and will consist of the novena prayers, a short sermon, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, and the veneration of the relic of Saint Clare.

The devotions will be conducted by priests of the Order of Friars Minor from Saint Francis Friary, Rawson road, Brookline.

ENJOYING WELL-EARNED LEISURE — Looking over her textbooks in retrospect while enjoying the rewards of great accomplishment and three years of hard work is Mrs. Dorothea Cardiff of Newton Highlands and her team of loyal supporters and admirers, husband, Daniel Cardiff; daughter, Stephanie Jane, 10, and son, Andrew, 7.

Three Years of Study Are Over

It's An Enjoyable Summer For Mother, Degree Winner

Mrs. Dorothea C. Cardiff, Newton Highlands homemaker, is the wife of an investment manager, mother of two children, and a 1947 graduate of Vassar College where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree in dramatic production.

For the past three years, Mrs. Cardiff has been working diligently to add even additional lustre to this fine background. Her actions have set some of her friends "on fire" with a desire to emulate her.

For, at this time there is a quiet sense of great accomplishment in the Cardiff home at 73 Dedham St., Mrs. Cardiff realized her goal a few weeks back when she received her Bachelor of Law degree from Boston University School of Law.

The law degree culminated a long period of study and hard work for Mrs. Cardiff, attractive 33-year old wife of proud husband, Daniel L. Cardiff. She had to mix the life of a wife and mother with that of a law student.

"It was much more difficult than I dreamed when I started. But you find it amazing what you can do when you set your mind to it. It requires a lot of self-discipline and maximum use of your time," she reflects.

Mrs. Cardiff must have made good use of her time. After entering law school with no business background she was named to the Boston University Law Review, an honor which goes only to those in the top ten per cent of their freshman class.

During her second and third years, the Cushing Academy graduate contributed several articles to the Review in addition to her regular studies. She also served as secretary of the Student Bar Association during her second year.

She accomplished all this while taking care of her family, serving on the PTA, and helping out with a Girl Scout troop to which her daughter, Stephanie Jane, 10, belongs. Adding to her motherly chores has been the transporting from school each afternoon of Stephanie, who has been sporting a cast on her leg for the past three months, the result of a skiing accident.

"There were many times when I'd come home ready to forget it all," she recalls. "But, my husband was wonderful. He gave a lot of encouragement and kidded me into continuing." Mr. Cardiff is a graduate of Boston University's College of Business Administration.

Mrs. Cardiff has averaged five hours of study per day during her three-year student stint, most of it coming in the evening after the children were in bed. After attempting to study at home at night, she found that the nearby library was the only place where she could concentrate on the books. "There was always some distraction at home."

Her next project was to study for the Massachusetts Bar Association examinations which were given June 25-26. Now she is enjoying a well-deserved rest for the summer. When the youngsters return to the classes at Countryside School, Newton, in the fall, their mother hopes to take up part-time work in a private law firm.

Mrs. Cardiff's efforts have proved to be an inspiration to her friends. Three have decided to return to school to earn their master's degrees. "When they saw it could be done without neglecting the family, they decided to try it," Mrs. Cardiff said. "I think every woman today should try to get as much education as possible. It's hard going, but it's worth it."

The Whirlwind unit consists of girls from 12 to 15 years of age. The Whirlwinds are divided into two groups: Primitive and canoeing. The primitive unit has camped out in the White Mountains and are taking a trip to the Girl Scout Roundup in Vermont from July 23-26. At the same time the canoeists will be paddling the Sebago Lake in Maine.

The other three units, Hemlocks, Birches and Woodlands are for the younger campers. Their program varies from spending an afternoon recreating a scene in a freehand sketch to overnights and cookouts.

Air Force ACE Test Applicants Being Signed Now

T/Sgt. Francis McMahon, Air Force representative for this city, disclosed today that he is now scheduling applicants for the Airman qualifying examinations. Young men and women desiring to enlist in the Air Force in August or September must begin their processing now, he said.

Scores achieved on the AQE test aid the Air Force in determining an applicant's aptitudes in relation to USAF training courses. Applicants must pass the AQE test before they can begin their initial processing for enlistment.

Sergeant McMahon announced that fourteen Newton youths have already applied for testing and he cautioned that enlistment vacancies from now through October will be at a premium. Monthly enlistment vacancies are predicated on training spaces made available by Air Training Command headquarters in Texas and cannot be exceeded.

Complete information on the AQE test and other enlistment requirements may be obtained by contacting the sergeant at 682 Maine street, Waltham, or by calling TW 3-7941.

JOHN W. WHITTEMORE

Rep. Whittemore Seeks 4th Term On Beacon Hill

Representative John W. Whittemore of Newtonville, one of the most respected legislators on Beacon Hill, today announced his candidacy for reelection to a fourth term in the House of Representatives from the fourth Middlesex district.

Whittemore, who lives at 43 Otis street in Newtonville, will seek Republican renomination in the Sept. 18 primary in the legislative district which takes in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton.

One of Newton's best known public figures, Whittemore has established a reputation as an outstanding Republican vote-getter. Representative Whittemore has resided in Newton for more than four decades and over a period of years has taken an active role in various community and civic affairs. He has headed drives for the United Fund, the Heart Fund, Cancer Fund and the Salvation Army.

He has served as co-chairman of Newton's annual Halloween celebration, sponsors a Little League baseball team each year, has been a director of the Newton Boys Club

He was first elected to the House in 1956 and on the basis of records he achieved was re-elected in 1958 and 1960.

During his service in the Legislature, Whittemore has been a member of the aeronautics committee, the committee on election laws and the old age assistance committee.

In addition to his civic and professional affiliations, Whittemore is a member of the Bay State Republican Club, the Middlesex Club, the Boston Executive Club and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery. Whittemore already has filed more than enough nomination signatures to qualify for a place on the September primary ballot.

BODY WAVE $10.00

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily.

It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resiliency to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

5 Fire Preventives

"Acceptance of five suggestions could prevent nine out of 10 home fires, according to Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., of the Newton Fire Department. His proposed preventives are:

"1. Keep matches away from tiny hands and encourage adults to smoke safely (and never in bed).

"2. Stop misusing electricity by improper fusing, overloading circuits, defective wiring and appliances.

Six Cars And Truck Crash In Two Accidents

Two traffic accidents, both spectacular but only one resulting in injuries, occurred this week in Newton.

A five car mix-up resulting in disabling damages to four took place on the Worcester Turnpike in Newton Highlands early Tuesday. No injuries were reported to police.

Later in the same day a truck and station wagon were involved in a collision on Walnut street at Watertown street in Newtonville. The impact tipped the truck on its side.

Everett-L. Clark, 100 Myrtle street, Waltham, the driver of the truck, was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital for injuries to his side and left shoulder. Carol W. Mead, 662 Harrington drive, Sunnydale, Cal., operator of the station wagon, was treated at the same hospital for head, left knee and shoulder injuries.

Operators involved in a five-car crash at Boylston street and Meredith avenue, Newton Highlands, were Donato Colasante, 3 Patricia road, Framingham; Myron Wreschinsky, 424 Chandler street, Worcester; Gerald E. Haletky, 14 Barnsdale road, Natick; Francis H. Funia Jr., 37 Marshall road, Wellesley, and Joseph A. Maddocks, 6 Vernon street, Framingham. All except the Colasante auto were towed. The accident took place in the eastbound lane of the turnpike where Mr. Colasante was reportedly about to make a left turn.

COD Endorses Jos. G. Bradley For House Seat

Alderman Joseph G. Bradley has been endorsed by COD, reform Democratic organization, for a seat in the House of Representatives from the fourth Middlesex district which covers Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton. Bradley will seek the Democratic nomination for the House in the September primary.

COD Vice Chairman Lawrence A. Sullivan described Bradley as "a fine example of the kind of candidate the Democratic party can and must attract if it is to maintain its strength in the electorate and in the General Court."

Sullivan pointed out that Bradley is both a member of COD and a leader in his home community.

"We believe that Joseph Bradley, along with the other COD candidates for legislative office, represents a new look in the Democratic party in Massachusetts," he asserted.

Local Man Has Plan To Assist Small Business

A "people-to-people" program for small business owners and managers was suggested in Washington, D.C., this week to the U.S. Senate's Select Committee on Small Business as an answer to what the committee termed "an alarming rate of failures of small businesses in 1961."

Harvey C. Kreutzman, president of Advanced Management Associates, Inc., and a resident of 39 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, outlined the program. It calls for the development of a businessman-to-businessman advisor board by the Federal Government. Set informally, such a relationship, he predicted, would enable the small business owner-manager to create a sounding board for his ideas from persons in similar circumstances.

Kreutzman told the committee that the small businessman is "essentially a lonely man, who has no one to turn to for advice."

He was called by the committee to appear in public hearings held to review how management consultants can assist the very small businessman. According to Sen. Frank

Bike Safety Programs At Playgrounds

The Bicycle Safety Program for the children of Burr and Farlow Parks was conducted recently at Burr Park by Officer Charles Feeley of the Newton Police Department. He was assisted by playground instructors Claire Brennan, Anita Jagel, Carolyn Barrette, and by a parent, Mrs. Lucille Edwards.

The safety program consisted of instructions in bicycle safety, street riding, and all phases of bicycle safety.

Rawson Blasts Air Right Bill

George E. Rawson of Newton, outspoken Republican Representative of the 4th Middlesex district, who is retiring this year, severely criticized the House and Senate for letting the highly controversial air rights bill go along without amendments that would require the Turnpike Authority to comply with Boston zoning and building codes in leasing space over the toll road extension.

"I am not too sanguine about the effects of this bill," Rawson said, "but it was impossible to defeat it or modify it, so great was the power of the chairman of the Turnpike Authority over the membership of the present General Court."

"He owns the earth and apparently aspires to own the heavens, too. In my opinion, the possession by an individual of power greater than the elected representatives of the people is not in the public interest," Newton's long-time representative concluded.

E. Moss of Utah, chairman of the committee, "lack of management know-how is the most frequently cited reason for small business bankruptcies." Independent businesses with dollar liabilities totalling $1 billion were recorded as failures in 1961.

GIFT FROM CARDINAL—Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, presents a personal gift of $500 to Mrs. Samuel Rubin, of Newton, president of the Greater Boston Council of Mizrahi Women, to further the education of Jewish children in Israel. The gift will help establish tuition scholarships in the network of schools, children's villages and centers operated by American Mizrahi Women in the Holy Land.
